Term 4 Weeks 1-4
Food tasting in years 4-6

Boy! have we got our taste buds around some yummy Japanese meals and treats this term so far!

Year 6 Sukiyaki tasting

Our Year six classes have had the opportunity to try a popular Japanese dish called Sukiyaki. They watched the cooking and preparation process as well as tasting the result. We reflected on this learning experience by talking about our expectations and trying new food and appreciating different cultures attitudes to food and ultimately...would we try it again!
Here are some of what the students thought...

My experience eating SUKIYAKI!

Name:

アリシア・アリシア

Class

6B

My expectations:

The smell is sweet so I am expecting it to have a mixed sweet-savory taste. The rice and noodles will probably add some secondary taste to it as well.

When I tried Sukiyaki:

I really liked how the rice and noodles mixed together and made new form of texture. I enjoyed small nibbles of 焼肉 (charcoal) but the しゃぶしゃぶ (shabu-shabu) was great. Adding more しょう油 (soy sauce) little by little made the texture taste surprisingly good and there was unusual effects.

My final impressions:

I really want to try it again so it will definitely be seen in my lunch box. Extremely curious on the しゃぶしゃぶ and what type they were but none the less.

おたあ!!

My experience eating SUKIYAKI!

Name:

James - 5/2/21

Class GR

My expectations:

I think the Sukiyaki will taste really full of flavour and delicious also a little spicy but sweet and yummy! ✓

When I tried Sukiyaki:

When I tried it, it tasted so full of FLAVOUR! The ^{rice} ご飯 was sticky + soft. I really liked it the noodles had a different consistency. The 焼肉 was well-cooked, altogether it was pretty good! ✓

My final impressions:

I liked ^{Sukiyaki} すき焼き , the ^{rice} ご飯 probably my favourite, I wasn't a huge fan of the consistency of the noodles and the ^{egg} たまご mixed in, but it was okay! I learnt that the egg wasn't as hard as I thought it would be, and I really liked the ^{egg} たまご mixed in! ✓

Year 4 & 5 Umaibo tasting

Our year 4 & 5 classes had the opportunity to try a famous Japanese snack. Umaibo- which roughly translates to tasty stick...

Here are some of the student's expectations and final impressions on this cultural experience.

My experience eating UMAIBO!

Name: Isabella Lopez

Class 4B

My expectations:

It was like a candy stick. I was hoping it would be good. I think it will probably be different because it is corn.

When I tried UMAIBO:

at first it tasted a bit odd. Then it was becoming funnier and yumier. It was salty and creamy and I want to eat it.

My final impressions:

It tasted like some thing else that I have never had. I really want to eat it. I want to drink a drink of water.

My experience eating UMAIBO!

Name: Lara Ferrate

Class 4th

My expectations: I feel like it would be light, crunchy. It would look like a giant twistie. When you bite it it might melt in your mouth, coming.

When I tried UMAIBO:

I was ~~surprised~~! When I bit it, it tasted like corn bread melting in my mouth! It was like corn bread and to me it smelt like oreo!
Now I really want to go to one for $99

My final impressions:

I want to say おいしい! That was so おいしい too! and it was very おいしい too.
Delicious tasty

What a wonderful time exploring new flavours and tastes!
What I was most impressed with was our students maturity and ability to recognise trying new things makes life so much richer. (even if they didn't like it, the fact our students tried something they never had before, builds resilience and creates opportunities for learning.

Well done!!!!
